

Please join Pia Juhl for the opening reception of Yellow Cloud 2019 . Acrylic on canvas . 36 x 36 inches

Rocks Around the Cape

Saturday . March 9th . 4:00 — 6:00 pm

@ Jane Deering Gallery . 19 Pleasant Street . Gloucester

Pia Juhl writes: 'I love to paint landscapes of Cape Ann and presently am concentrating on large-scale subjects.' Glacial boulders, the marsh land, monolithic stones, the vast interaction of sky and sea — all of this has captured her eye. She breaks down a scene into its essential colors and shapes, using the brush to 'feel' the painting's form.

Pia Juhl was born in Denmark and after meeting her American husband there, moved to Boston. Early on, Edward Hopper was a great influence. Today, her painting is more intuitive and influenced by Milton Avery, Wolf Kahn and Catalan artist Jaume Muxart. Her work has been exhibited widely on Cape Ann at Flatrocks Gallery, Cove Gallery, Annisquam Exchange Art Gallery and Art in the Barn. She has also shown at Faneuil Hall in Boston and in Harvard MA. This is the artist's second show at Jane Deering Gallery.
