Vandals Smash Windows, Dent 26 Parked Cars A roving band of youthful vandals left a string of 26 battered cars in their wake in Brookline yesterday. Brookline police said damage would amount to "several thousand dollars," All of the damaged vehicles late models, none older

Authorities said the destruction, was concentrated in the northern section of the town. Police said windshields, side windows and rear windows were smashed. Headlights and tail lights were shattered, and huge dents were banged into

Police said all of the cars were parked on public streets in the town.

McLaughlin is concerned that people who lose faith in their government, even in this country, will turn to something they believe to be better, and he cites the public frame of mind in the early days of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration.

"Whatever else he did," radio can at Louie's Lounge, 1788 Washing-ton ton st., where the woman was reportedly creating a disturbance. As McDonough started to lead Sandra Cabral, 22, of Columbus av., South End from the cafe, he said her husband, Rudolph, 25, came to her assistance. Cunniff then joined the fray.

"Whatever else he did, F. D. R. rebuilt faith in the ability and intention of the government to insure that a man who wants to work can work."

Sistance. Cunning them joined the fray.

As the officers subdued Cabral, they said another woman, Dorothea Welch, 21, of Massachusetts av., South End, joined in the scuffle.
